

I am always asked how Bruno's started. Well, it is a little bit of a story; my father was a great tuckpointer which helped guide my path a little. My interest was with automotive repair. I completed two years of trade school which lead me to become an apprentice. I worked for Chevrolet but I realized I did not like working on dirty engines, which in turn closed that chapter of my life. I talked to my mom and dad to tell them it wasn't working and I asked my dad who is the biggest tuckpointing company in Chicago? When he told me, I went there and applied. Much to my surprise, I got the job and Oh boy, did they let me have it! I was a laborer for 1-2 years before I became a tuckpointer and started moving up the ladder quickly. I give my father all the credit for it. He taught me the trade before I even started there.

After a few years, I decided I wanted to work for myself. I would walk Rush Street door to door just to see what I could find. One day I walked into a church and halfway in I met a man named Jim Dvorak who gave me about 10 different churches to do! From there my business grew. Now with my successful career coming close to an end, I will be handing the torch over to Steven. He is more than ready for this chapter and challenge.

As soon to be President of Bruno's Tuckpointing inc. it has been a long road coming. As most children of a family company, I started at the very bottom loading trucks. Along the way I have learned every single position of our family business. My grandpa taught me how to tuckpoint at 13 and it was all set in stone, literally LOL. From then on I knew that this was going to be my future. As an Alma Mater from DePaul University with a concentration in Entrepreneurship, my heart was already set on Bruno's even when my dad told me to work smarter then him not harder. I learned many new ways to build Bruno's, and I never stayed one weekend in college. Leading by example is a very good way to describe me and my action. Everything our employees do on a jobsite, Mike and I are never too busy to help an employee running a little behind on a job site. Team work is what you will find as I lead this ship forward on its journey. Family is everything to me that is why at Bruno's we treat each and every project as if it was our own house. Feel free to call to make an appointment would be proud to be of service. Thank you.

Hello, my name is Dee (aka Mike's sister). I am the Office Manager and currently work off site. When my husband retired, we moved out of state. I oversee all of the office operations and take care of accounts payables, insurance, union paperwork etc. The list doesn't end. I actually was ready to retire but my brother asked me (well begged me) to stay. Southwest definitely knows me by my first name due to the fact that I go back to Illinois often to make sure all of our customers stay satisfied and happy. Family is the most important part of my life. Keeping our customers happy is at the top of my list as well. Give my office a call for any upcoming repairs you may need. Our office would be happy to talk to you soon.

Hello. I am Patty. I have worked at Bruno's for a little over 24 years. I started out answering phones and typing estimates and now I have worked my way up to running the office operations such as preparing various schedules, billing / accounts receivables and making sure the office stays on track. I guess the only thing I haven't done is tuckpointed for Bruno's. LOL. I can honestly say that I appreciate all of the wonderful customers I have dealt with throughout these 24 years. Customer satisfaction is what I take great pride in. It is because of each one of you that I get to continue to work for a fantastic company.
Thank you.
